

Springboard After School provides extended learning programs for school-aged children in grades K-8. Developed by doctoral level educators, teachers, and school administrators, our program offers a balance between academic support, physical activities, and electives that are fun, exciting, and meaningful for children. As part of the Springboard academic component children are taught by credentialed educators who are trained in the Core Knowledge approach. Our teachers offer academic support on a one-on-one basis to complete their homework accurately and completely. We also provide a welcoming place where children are comfortable, enjoy games and enrichment activities, play sports, attend monthly clubs and develop camaraderie. As part of our Electives Program children select more “focused” enrichment activities such as Yoga, Dance, Rocketry, Robotics and Tae Kwan Do that enable them to expand upon their interests and natural curiosity. Our program is available at a fraction of the cost of tutoring based programs or other after school programs that offer far less expertise and fun.
