A Family House

by Ethan Cruz
illustrated by Renate Lohmann

Core Decodable 107

W.P.N. 802 =

% accuracy

Mc.

Time

wpm
Dean, Mom, and the baby sat on a grassy hill. A tractor dug below. The tractor dug a deep hole.
"That hole will be the basement," said the edge. "The tractor piled dirt on the field's driveway."

"And trucks will haul that," explained Mom. "And trucks will haul that."
new house! He felt lucky.

Dean was happy. This hole was the start of a new house. It was his family's On top it had four steel beams.
back. The hole now had cement walls.
A week later, Dean and Mom came
A team of four carpenters hammer.

Three weeks later, Dean was back. A

"Steel beams will hold up the house," said Mom.

"Team of four carpenters hammered."
Dad pointed. "You will sleep in a bedroom there."
Dad also came to check the house. The frame went up quickly. Dad Smelling fresh wood, Dean took a deep breath. He liked a lot.

Dean liked seeing the team. He Several teams were in the house. Men put in pipes. Some were for water. Some were for gas. Gas will heat the house.
The wires right.
It takes a lot of know-how to get
were put in walls.
Electric wires were added. Wires
It took skill and time. Red, the crew put each brick in by hand. A crew laid bricks. The bricks were was almost ready. Painters came. Soon the house plastered. Lights and switches were placed. Walls were Weeks passed.
"We will eat there at times," said Mom.

"Put a deck on the back of the house. Four trees were planted. Carpenters beds, dressers, desks, and tables. A big van brought the house was ready. Finally, after weeks and weeks, the
We are so lucky," Dean said. "House below grassy hill. They looked at the new family of four stood on the